Before computers, we used typewriters to underline book titles, and we placed quotation marks around article titles. However, many current style manuals recommend italicizing book titles and magazine names (impossible to do on a typewriter) and using quotation marks around articles. Example: I read Lord of the Flies in high school. Example: I enjoyed reading [...]

CDs had been moved inside the main store, but the selection was primarily standard pop/rock. Another floor was closed for remodeling, and that--apparently--is where all the other genre will be. My impression is that the variety will be significantly pared. Big record stores, it seems, are going the way of typewriter repair shops.
